David SLONE

My principal place of residence is in the Cambridge Subdivision area.

Born and bred in Cambridge, I'm genuinely passionate about the town.

Purpose and community well-being are key drivers for me.

I'm currently employed by Statistics NZ as an Area Manager for the 2023 Census and for over 10 years prior to that I was working for a Cambridge based social enterprise. I also spent many years as an appointed member of two community orientated advisory committees at the Waikato DHB.

My side line is The Optimistic Cynic, where I help support purposeful business as well as blogging on disability issues.

Outside of work I can be found at the Cambridge Bowling Club, at John Kerkhoff Park watching football or hiding away in the garden.

I have been married to Judith for over 30 years. We have three adult children, all of whom went to school in Cambridge.
